Dear Alistair,

G’day!

This is just a quick note from all of us here at Dulwich Centre to thank you for your presentation at the 9th International Narrative Therapy and Community Work Conference.

We have received overwhelmingly good feedback about the conference and this is, in so small part, due to the quality and thoughtfulness of the presentations at this event. We know how much work you and others put into preparing and delivering your work and we really appreciate this.

With all that has occurred this past year it seems more important than ever to continue to build a community of narrative practitioners and create forums in which hopeful, creative and thoughtful work can be shared. So thank you for your part in this.

If you are interested in sharing your ideas and work in the written form then please let us know and we can explore possibilities for publication in either the International Journal of Narrative Therapy and Community Work or our upcoming Explorations: An E-journal of narrative practice. We will appreciate your participation in these continuing projects.

We would also be interested in receiving any feedback that you have about the conference.
We look forward to staying in touch.

Thanks again for your contributions to the conference.

Warm regards,
Virginia Leake,
On behalf of the Dulwich Centre Conference Collective.
