Strolling by the fount-ain in the Piazz-a Na-vo-na, breakfast on that bal-co-ny in Rome. We laughed so much that day we sang 'O mio bab- bi-no ca.'
as we crossed the Pohle Vecchi - o That gondola by moonlight in the city of bridges, San Marco in the snow on Christmas Eve.
Walking hand in hand in old San Gi-mi-gra-no, and wish-ing we would nev-er have to leave as \[ \text{Play 2nd only} \] sum-mertime's brook and the chill was in the air win-ter penned a plain live and all those hap-py mem-ories we thought would last for-ev-er

where did they go.

Princess and men where did they go? I feel you near but you're not here. I cry

Ti Sento Qui
Two hearts appeared to beat as one then faded as the setting sun re-gener-ates a pas-sion that still alf-im-prov-is-so un-par-ti-to-ed il ri-cor-do di noi due pas-sion that still set-ling
sun
ed
that still burns within my soul.

How can I set you free?
Such an impossibility.

burns that burns within his soul.

Ti sento qui impossibile.
Your memory deep within my heart. Ti sento qui.

Vivace col lato ricordo qui.
