

- Media

HARBOURVIEW SCULPTURE TRAIL

TE ATATU PENINSULA

5 – 28 MARCH 2016

- Home
- Visitor Info
- Ticket Prices
- How to Get There
- Curator Tours
- Group Bookings
- New Twilight Hours
- The Art Shop
- Schools Art Pathway
- Creation Station
- Kid's Discovery Sheets
- Peoples Choice Awards
- Guidelines & Safety
- Food and more out West
- About
- Artworks
- 2016
- 2014
- 2012
- Volunteer with us
- Our Sponsors
- News
- TICKETS ON SALE NOW

TICKETS ON SALE NOW Home Visitor Info Ticket Prices How to Get There Curator Tours Group Bookings New Twilight Hours The Art Shop Schools Art Pathway Creation Station Kid's Discovery Sheets Peoples Choice Awards Guidelines & Safety Food and more out West About Artworks 2016 2014 2012 Volunteer with us Our

21. Transmitter / Receiver for Military Residents 2011/2015 – Gareth C.A. Williams

Medium: Copper, Hinuera stone, brass

Size: 1410mm H x 350mm W x 250mm D

Price: $6,750

Information:

During WW2, thousands of American servicemen were sent to New Zealand to form a military base for the Allies' counter-offensive against the Japanese. The US Military erected five radio towers on the Te Atatu Peninsula around 1942, which served as radio location beacons for the navigation of overseas flights.

---

Gareth Williams has been making sculpture since the mid-1980's and holds a Masters in Fine Art degree from RMIT, Melbourne. Gareth has recently had exhibitions at the Te Whare Taonga O

Waikato (Waikato Museum), Hamilton and Te Manawa, Palmerston North and he currently teaches in the School of Media Arts at the Waikato Institute of Technology.

← Previous artwork: 20. You Say Hola, I Say Hello – \(Listening Device\) – Simon Gray

Next artwork: 22. A Question for Angels \(Sleigh and Flock\) – Ross Forbes →

© 2016 Peninsula Arts Inc.

Charities Commission No. CC49661