A day in the life of...

Introduction

Waiora Waikato in Hamilton, New Zealand is the biggest hospital campus in Australasia. Waikato DHB is the biggest business in the Waikato, one of the top 10 state-owned services, has an annual turnover of $1.1 billion and employs 6000 people – which makes it about the size of Morrinsville. The 6000 employees include many in non-clinical occupations.

"A day in the life of..." is a project that documented some of the many employees who were tracked during 24 hours at Waikato Hospital.
